Victoria Front & Rear Carpet

(Shows placement of snaps and fasteners.)

by Charlie Viosca

Shades of The Victoria!

The three completes sets of shades for the Victoria offered for sale in the last newsletter are all sold out. There are no more! We do have three single rear shades left for sale. They are $40. each.

We Got Questions!

Question: Did the Victoria originally deliver with sidemount spare tire mounts? And if it did, was it on the left, the right, or both? And...is there a hole in the frame made at the factory to install a bracket?

Al Carrion

Answer: The car normally came with the rear tire mount only, but a sidemount spare was available on order. The local dealer could also install them at the buyer's request. It could be installed on the right, the left, or both. There is a hole in the frame provided by the factory to install a bracket.

Charlie

Question: On page 2 of the January newsletter there is a copy of an original Victoria invoice. What does BG&O stand for? Carlton Bauman Answer: I'm Sorry, I don't know. Does anyone?

Charlie

Editor's Note: I think it stands for the BG&O Railroad. They were probably the folks that delivered the car to the dealer.

Area Code Change!

The Viosca phone number area code will change in September from 214 to 972.

MAFCA International Convention!

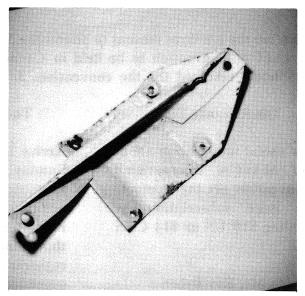

The first International MAFCA Convention will be held this July in Toronto, Canada. I will not be attending the convention, but there will be a Victoria Association meeting scheduled for July 19th, probably around 3:00 P.M. The meeting will be conducted by John & Kay Lee. Details of time and place will be published in the convention agenda. See MAFCA flyer on page 6.

Leonard Hammermeister!

Leonard has offered to provide assistance for anyone passing through Burton, Michigan on their way to the convention. Leonard lives two miles off I-96 about 70 miles south of the Canadian boarder. He states that there will be people and parts available for those in need of help. Contact Leonard at 810-742-0719. His address is 3116 Connecticut, Burton, MI 48519. If you are going to the convention this summer this is good information to carry along with you.

Rear Spare Tire Brace!

Anders Ramberg sent in a photo of his early inside rear spare tire brace. This is the first I have heard of a different brace. I would speculate that they did not prove sturdy enough so Henry went to the longer one we find in most Victorias. If anyone has information on this item, we would like to hear from you. ©

Victoria Overdrive!

by Joop Plaggenborg

An Extra Leaf!

I installed a Borg-Warner overdrive in my Victoria made by Bill Swigart Jr. (formerly Bert Hiller Mfg.). This type of overdrive has the housing installed midway between the transmission and the differential banjo. I added one extra leaf to the original eight leaf rear spring and it provided approximately three inches of clearance for the dropped floor pan. I am very pleased with the installation. ©

An Original Victoria!

by Bob Bidonde

Let's Hear About One!

I have a suggestion for a newsletter feature. It would be great to have photos and text about an original and perhaps low mileage Victoria. ©

Editor's Note!

There is an original Victoria residing in Bakersfield, California. The current owner is Daniel Holthaus 3333 Niles St. Bakersfield, California 93306. (805-366-0393), and he wants to sell it. Victoria won second place in the original category at the MAFCA National in San Diego in 1990. The car was then owned by Rudy Perez, owner of Meets's Early Auto located at 29885 2nd St. Unit C. Lake Elsinore, California 92330 (909-674-5171). Rudy sold it to the present owner right after the National. The new owner took it to Bakersfield where it has remained untouched ever since. Rudy says that when he was a youngster working in a filling station in Lake Elsinore the original owner of the car would bring it in for service. Rudy did some of the service work on it then. Years later Rudy was able to purchase the car from the original owner. I have personally seen the car twice, once at the 1990 National and again in Bakersfield in 1995. The car is a steel back with a single rear spare mount and is in good running condition. It has the original paint, though very thin, the original upholstery and is original through out with all of it's stuff still there. It appears to have never been wrecked, rusted, rotted or violated by enthusiasts. ©

Victoria Window Shades!

by Bill Bond

Before You Begin Installation!

Read this whole article at least once before you start the project. Then read it again!

Preparation!

When you receive your shade material, lay it out flat to help get the fold lines out. Leave it this way for a couple of days. Set your steam iron on the wool setting and steam iron the remaining wrinkles and fold lines. With the material nice and smooth, check the edges for square. If you don't have a nice rectangle, dampen a piece of cotton cloth and moisten the area that needs to be moved out. Pull gently to make the shade material square and iron it until it is dry and holds it's shape. Once you are satisfied with the pressing, layer each shade between newspaper and set aside in a place where it will not be disturbed until you are ready to install the material on the rollers.

Check The Rollers!

Be sure you have the correct rollers for each Some original rollers can be found at swap meets. They are not always the correct ones for the Victoria. Buy them anyway, because you can convert them. For rollers that are too short, weld on a piece of another roller to make the proper length. Those that are too long cut the open end off to size. Inspect, repair and lubricate the roller mechanism. Leave the axle end alone if you can. To remove the spring end take a 3/32 drill bit and drill a hole in the indented holes that hold the spring mechanism in the end of the roller. There should be two, one on each side of the roller. Carefully slide out the spring mechanism. Check the spring to be sure it is not broken and is hooked properly at each end. Clean the mechanism and lubricate. Check the outer end of the mechanism to see that both lock dogs are there and move freely. If one is missing get another spring mechanism. With the spring mechanisms in working order set them aside and check the rollers for proper length. The rear roller should be 261/2 inches long and the two side rollers should each be 20 inches long. Clean them to bare metal. They are not supposed to be painted. Clean the seam especially well because that's where the glue will be placed when the shade is attached.

Spring Mechanism Installation!

To install the spring mechanism slide it into the roller and carefully solder it to the roller. Be sure the edges are flush before you solder. Use a soldering iron, not a torch. This completes the assembly of the rollers. If you cannot find enough rollers to make up a set you can buy new rollers from LeBaron-Bonney. They come with shade material installed. You will have to remove and discard it. You only need the rollers.

Roller Testing!

Take a piece of plywood and mount the roller end holders temporarily to make sure the rollers work before you install the shade material. Nail the plywood to a wall and loop string around the roller with scotch tape to hold the end of the string. Try the roller several times to set the spring end and to get the proper tension on the spring. When you install the finished roller the spring has to be wound and locked at the proper tension and place. you want to do this before you attach the material so that you are not fooling with it and stretching the material out of shape and rolling it around out of square.

Plating!

The next step is to have the roller end holders plated bright nickel. They are not to be butler finished. You will need twelve (12) oval-headed slotted wood screws to attach the roller end holders. They should be polished zinc plates screws, not chrome. Each of the roller end holders should have an 1\8th inch hole in the side of them to tie the guide cord into. If the holes are not there, drill them before plating.

Roller Installation!

Center the rollers over each window 3/4 of an inch above the window frame and parallel to the bottom frame. Slide on the axle end roller holder. Position the end, and stick an ice pick in the center of the top hole. Remove the roller and the end. Drill a pilot hole through the upholstery and into the wood using a 1/8th drill bit. Drill into the ice pick hole about 3/4 of an inch deep. Temporarily install one screw to hold the roller end holder and re-insert the roller to check center and alignment. Do this for each window. If possible have someone help hold things. You will install the other end when you are ready for the final assembly.

Eyelet Installation!

The eyelets are installed next. One is installed at each end of the oval-shaped sticks for the bottom of the shades. Be sure the sticks are the exact length of the width of the shade they are to be installed in. You will also need some small eyelets for the tassels. Purchase them from a fabric store. Get the smallest size available. These will be installed by crimping into the center of the shade at the bottom just above the stitched seam for the stick. To be sure that the stick will slide in after the eyelet has been installed mark the hole for the eyelet with the stick slid into the shade.

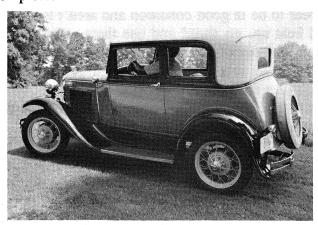

Fabric Installation!

I used a tube of glue called "stick it" to attach the fabric to the metal roller. You can use any good glue for this purpose. Place the roller on a clean table with the seam up. Be sure you have the roller mechanism on the proper right or left side so that it will roll up correctly with the material on the back side of the roller. Place the shade material in the proper orientation and put three short strips of masking tape on the top of the material to hold the material to the roller in the proper position for it to Spread the glue along the seam of the roller or along a scribe line to be able to align the material. Press the material down along the seam and press the tape down to hold it in place. Let the glue dry for 24 hours. Remove the tape and put a strip of waxed paper over the glued area and roll the shade onto the roller. Keep it very straight as you roll it. Wrap newspaper around the finished roller to keep it clean and straight. Put masking tape around the newspaper to hold it in place. Let it sit for about a week. With the newspaper and waxed paper still in place, finish the final installation of the roller end holder in the car. Put the top screw in the hook end and check the alignment. Remove the newspaper and waxed paper and rewind the shade.

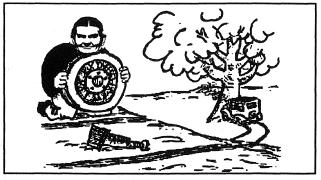

Shade Guide Installation!

The guide strings are gold in color and are of a twisted nylon twine (they were originally silk). I can supply the nylon twine if you are unable to find any. Tie a bowline knot at the top of the roller end holder and leave a little loop in the knot so you can slip the knot to tighten the string later if you need to. On the rear window the strings go straight down behind the rear seat and are tacked with a shinny black-headed upholstery tack. windows have a large upholstery covered tack placed straight down from the roller holder to about ½ inch below the window sill level. To make the four tacks needed, drill a hole (not clear through) a piece of plywood or pine board. Make the hole slightly larger than the head of the tack. Place a swatch of upholstery fabric over the hole. Put some epoxy on the head of the tack and press it the hole to cover the tack head. Let it dry. Remove the tack and carefully trim around the base of the head. The tack head should be about 1/2 inch in diameter. Determine where the tack should be installed and make a start hole with an ice pick. This will help the tack to seat without having to hammer too hard on the upholstered head of the tack. Press the tack into the hole firmly and use a rubber mallet to set it. String the cord through the evelets and wrap the guide cord around the tack at least three times and drive the tack down tight. Use a razor blade to trim the excess cord. Install the last screws to the roller ends and tighten all the Install the tassels and the job is screws. complete. ©

Yo Charlie! Did you block the wheels?

Transmission Overhaul:

Overhauling a Model A Ford transmission is not as complicated as it could be expensive. If you were to replace all of the moving parts in the transmission case you would have to spend over $525. at today's prices just for the parts. And that doesn't include restoring the transmission shifting tower. If you disassemble a transmission and put it back together several times you will become an expert. Henry set a few traps for you but for the most part it's pretty straight forward. There are only a couple of parts that you can install backwards. You also need to have access to a press to remove and install the two ball bearings located at the front and rear of the case. The cost of the parts is still the biggest consideration. At a minimum you should replace the two ball bearings and the three roller bearings anytime you disassemble a transmission. The gears you can apply some judgement to. Of course if some of them have their teeth laying in the bottom of the case you must replace them. But if they appear to be in good condition and aren't too pitted and beat up, go ahead and use them, especially if they came out of a running car that ran reasonably quiet. You can also pick up used gears at swap meets at a fraction of the cost of new ones. When you re-assemble a transmission the Henry traps you need to look out for are, the orientation of the short and long roller bearings on the cluster shaft, the orientation of the reverses idler gear, and the orientation of the two ball bearing oil slingers. Some folks have a tendency to want to put the oil slingers in backwards and when they do they will rub on the outer race of the bearings and grind themselves into powder. You can also buy sealed ball bearings instead of the regular Henry bearings. They are supposed to prevent oil leaks from the front and rear of the transmission. Just be sure that the bearing is sealed only on one side and that you install the bearing in the transmission with the seal on the outside of the bearing. Otherwise it wont receive any lubrication from the inside of the transmission. Another thing to look for is wear on the pilot end of the input shaft caused by it spinning in the bearing that is in the belly button of the flywheel. You can have the pilot end repaired by having it welded up and machined down to the proper size. It's also a good idea to replace the flywheel belly button bearing anytime you have the transmission out of the car. It's a grease pack bearing that quickly loads up with a lot of crud from the clutch disc as it wears. It's also an inexpensive bearing, sells for around $5.00. Some people refer to it as the clutch pilot bearing. While you're at it you might want to replace the clutch throw out bearing while you have the transmission out of the car. They wear out quick and they only cost about $15.00. A word of caution! Henry set a big trap for you if you go to install a different transmission from the one you took out of the car. Bolted on at the back of the transmission is a cast part called the rear bearing retainer (A7085A). They are not all the same! The bolt pattern for the six bolts that the U-joint housing parts connect to have more than one pattern. If you look at a gasket set for this assembly you will see that two of the bolt holes are elongated to satisfy more than one pattern. It's a good idea to remove the rear bearing retainer from your old transmission and bolt it on to the new one before you install it. If you are building up a transmission to install in a car you are restoring, make sure that you have a matched set of hardware for the U-joint housing. To check for a match, you need the outer U-joint housing cap (two Pieces A4520C), the inner U-joint housing cap (one piece A4513A), and a transmission rear bearing retainer (A7085A). Hold the parts together as they would be assembled and make sure all six of the bolt holes in all four parts line up.
